

Name of Department: Ancient Indian History, Culture and Archaeology

Name of Programme: M.A (Ancient Indian History, Culture and Archaeology)

Vision

To conduct Archaeological Excavation and Exploration.
To set up the Departmental Museum as a space for learning and knowledge dissemination.

Mission

To start a diploma in Paleography and Epigraphy.
To operationalize BA AIHC&A at the College level.

Program Outcomes (PO)

- PO 1 Our post graduate course in Ancient Indian History, Culture and Archaeology equips our students to either go for research work in the above fields, as well as prepare them with sufficient knowledge to enter various industries like Tourism and Culture besides specialized government departments like Archaeological Survey of India etc.
- PO 2 The course work is comprehensive and structured in such a manner that exams and interviews for specialized government and non-government based institutes can be cleared by our students.
- PO3 The M.Phil and Ph.D course work of our department is intensive and exhaustive and prepares our scholars to keep up with latest research methodologies in our discipline.
- PO 4 Moreover many of our research scholars have been absorbed in the teaching profession at the graduate level.

Program Specific Outcomes (PSO)

- PSO 1 Students are able to through a specifically co-ordinated course structure get a good grasp and understanding our valuable heritage.
- PSO2 Students of the department are able to apply the core concepts and knowledge gained through the comprehensively organized course structure to clear semester exams, NET-JRF and various National and State level exams.
- PSO 3 The course work encourages critical thinking and analysis which is vital for good research work for those interested in pursuing research.
- PSO 4 The rigorous teaching and learning in terms of theoretical archaeological and field archaeological concepts aids the students in not only various competitive exams but also encourages them to explore a career in archaeology.
- PSO 5 The comprehensive course work on all aspects of Indian Culture equips our students to fit into the Tourism and Culture industry.
- PSO 6 Techniques of Conservation and Preservation are taught to our students, so therefore they are equipped to work in Conservation projects anywhere in India.

Rajinder Singh
Rajinder Singh
Department of Ancient Indian History,
Culture & Archaeology
Panjab University,
Chandigarh

PSO 7 Our department is one of the few department in the country which teaches the students specialized papers on Paleography, Epigraphy and Numismatics.

PSO 8 Overall the PG students of the department of AIHC&A are suitably equipped in making use of primary sources needed for the study and research in Ancient Indian History including Archaeology, Paleography, Epigraphy and Numismatics. They are able to comprehend the complexities of Indian civilization and hence are frontrunners in teaching and researching on our heritage.

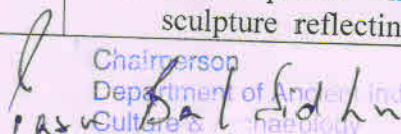

Course Outcomes

Semester-I

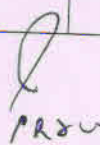

Course Code	Course Title
AIH 001(C)	An outline of the History of India from the earliest times to circa 700 B.C.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. This course studies intensively the history of India from the earliest times to circa 700 B.C. with special reference to archaeological and literary sources. 2. Students are able to comprehend the multiple methods of reconstructing ancient history
AIH 002(C)	An outline of the History of India from 78 A.D. to circa 300 A.D.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The primary objective of this paper is to acquaint the students with history and culture of this very significant period of the Indian history. 2. To prepare them for the deeper and better understanding of ancient Indian history.
AIH 003	History of India from 650 A.D. to 1207 A.D.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The primary objective of this paper is to acquaint the students with the emergence of regional kingdoms in India in the post Harsha period. 2. To prepare the students for a deeper and better understanding of the early medieval period of ancient Indian History.
AIH 004	South Indian History	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The course aims to acquaint the students with the political and cultural history of the south India. 2. The history of the peninsula is an integral part of the Indian history and thus comprehensive study in its entirety is a must.
AIH 005	History of Indian Religions from the earliest times upto 1200 A.D.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The course aims to help develop critical judgement in students and to make a historical study of religious cults and sects. 2. Emphasis is placed on the historical contexts of the evolution of various religious traditions; conflict and integration; ideology; rituals and mythology.
AIH 006 (C)	Indian Architecture from Indus Valley to circa 850 AD	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The objective of this paper is to acquaint students with the history of ancient Indian architecture from the earliest times to circa 850 A.D. 2. The main aim is to familiarize students with the ancient monuments and architectural planning of religious and secular structures.
AIH 007 (C)	Indian Sculpture	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. To acquaint the students with the beginning and development of sculpture, in different materials is the aim of this paper.

Chairperson
 Department of Ancient Indian
 & Archaeology
 University,
 Chandigarh

		2. The emphasis will be on the characteristics of Indian sculpture reflecting the social, economic religious, conditions of our country representing various regions and periods.
AIH 008	Iconography	1. The course is aimed to acquaint the students with the iconographic features and their development through the ages in Brahmanism, Buddhism and Jainism. 2. A comprehensive understanding of religious and art traditions of ancient India.
Semester-II
Course Code	Course Title
AIH 009(C)	An outline of the History of India from circa 700 B.C. to 78 A.D.	1. This course studies intensively the history of India from circa 700 B.C. to 78 A.D. with special reference to archaeological, literary, epigraphic and numismatic sources. 2. Students are able to understand the political events in their situational context, locating the interconnection of social, economic and cultural developments.
AIH 010(C)	An outline of the History of India from circa 300 A.D. to 1200 A.D.	1. The primary objective of this paper is to acquaint students with the history and culture of this very significant period of the Indian history. 2. To prepare the students for a deeper and better understanding of ancient Indian history.
AIH 011.	History of India from 650 A.D. to 1207 A.D	1. The primary objective of this paper is to acquaint the students with the emergence of regional kingdoms in India in the post Harsha period 2. To prepare them for the deeper and better understanding of the history of early medieval period of Indian History.
AIH 012	South Indian History	1. The course aims to acquaint the students with the political and cultural history of the south India. 2. The history of the peninsula is an integral part of the Indian history and thus comprehensive study in its entirety is a must.
AIH 013	History of Indian Religions from the earliest times upto 1200 A.D	1. The course aims to help and develop critical judgement in students and to make a historical study of religious cults and sects. 2. Emphasis is laid on the historical contexts of the evolution of various religious traditions; conflict and integration, ideology, rituals and mythology.
AIH 014 (C)	Indian Temple Architecture upto circa 1250 AD	1. The objective of this paper is to acquaint students with the history of ancient Indian temple architecture upto circa 1250 A.D. 2. The main aim of this paper is to familiarize the students with the evolution and development of temples in India. 3. Three different styles of temple building shall be studied in detail.
AIH 015 (C)	Indian Sculpture	1. The aim of this paper is to acquaint the students with the beginning and development of sculptural art. 2. The emphasis will be on the characteristics of Indian sculpture reflecting the social, economic and religious

 Chairperson
 Department of Ancient Indian History,
 Culture & Archaeology
 Panjab University,
 Chandigarh

		traditions of our country representing various regions and periods. 3. Students are acquainted with the influence of varied cultural traditions on Indian Sculpture so that they can discern the richness of our heritage.
AIH 016	Iconography	1. The course is aimed to acquaint the students with the iconographic features and their development through the ages in Buddhism and Jainism. 2. A comprehensive understanding of religious and art traditions of ancient India.
Semester-III
Course Code	Course Title
AIH 017(C)	Prehistoric Archaeology	1. This course is a survey of the prehistoric background of India from the Palaeolithic to the Neolithic Period. 2. The main focus of the course is on the problems of interpretation of prehistoric archaeological data.
AIH 018(C)	Archaeological Methods, Techniques and Early Historic Archaeology	1. The broad objective of the course is to introduce students to the basics of archaeology. 2. To familiarise them with the theoretical issues of field methods. 3. To impart field training.
AIH 019(C)	Palaeography and Epigraphy	1. In order to reconstruct ancient Indian history from the original sources a study of ancient Indian inscriptions is a must. For this purpose the knowledge of ancient scripts of India is essential. 2. The bulk of ancient Indian inscriptions are in Brahmi script and its offshoots. As such the objective of this paper is to prepare students of ancient Indian history, culture and archaeology to use original sources for a deep and correct understanding of historical facts.
AIH 020(C)	Indian Numismatics	1. The course aims to acquaint the students with the study of ancient coins of India that forms an integral and significant part of the discipline. 2. It is our endeavor to make the students familiar with the decipherment of the legends and identification of the coins.
AIH 021	Central Asia and China	1. The course aims to provide a comprehensive survey of culture in regions outside India thus showing the ancient linkages, between India, Central Asia and China. 2. The focus would primarily be on the introduction and spread of Buddhism; and the development of Buddhist art and Culture in Central Asia and China.
AIH 022	Burma, Thailand and Indonesia	1. The course aims to provide a comprehensive survey of the spread of Indian culture in South East Asia, thus showing the ancient linkages in the field of polity, art, culture, and religion. 2. The contribution of India to the culture of these countries is studied in detail.

 Praveen Singh
 Chairperson
 Department of Ancient Indian History,
 Culture & Archaeology
 Panjab University,
 Chandigarh

AIH 023	Social Life and Institutions in Ancient India	1. The aim of this paper is to acquaint the students with intricacies of social life and institutions in ancient India through the ages upto 1200 AD.
AIH 024	Political Ideas and Institutions in Ancient India	2. The course is aimed to acquaint students with the political ideas and institutions that formed the basis of ancient Indian political system upto 1200 AD.
AIH 025	Pali and Prakrit Literature	1. The main objective of this paper is to prepare the students for a deeper understanding of the history of Pali and Prakrit literature. 2. The period of the composition of various works, their subject matter and historical significance would be discussed.
AIH 026	History of Sanskrit Literature	1. The main objective of this paper is to prepare the students for a deeper understanding of the history of Sanskrit literature. 2. The time period of the composition of various works, their subject matter and historical significance is critically analyzed.
AIH 027	Afro-Asian Civilization	1. The above course aims to study the ancient societies of Egypt and Iran for a better overall understanding of the ancient civilizations of the world.
AIH 028	Greek Civilization	1. The above course aims to study the ancient societies of Greece, for a better overall understanding of the ancient civilizations of the world.

Semester-IV

Course Code	Course Title
AIH 029(C)	Protohistoric Archaeology	1. This course is a survey of the proto-historic period from the Early Harappan period to approximately the time of the Early Buddhist and Jaina texts. 2. The main focus of the course is on the problems of interpretation of archaeological data.
AIH 030(C)	Techniques of Archaeological Excavation, Recording and Early Historic Archaeology	1. The broad objective of the course is to teach the students about the major excavations of India. 2. To familiarize them with the theoretical basis of field methods and to impart field training. 3. To impart field training.
AIH 031(C)	Palaeography and Epigraphy	1. In order to reconstruct ancient Indian history from the original sources a study of ancient Indian inscriptions is a must. The bulk of ancient Indian inscriptions are in Brahmi script and its offshoots. For this purpose the knowledge of ancient scripts of India is essential. 2. As such the objective of this paper is to prepare students of ancient Indian history, culture and archaeology to use the original sources for a deep and correct understanding of historical facts.
AIH 032(C)	Indian Numismatics	1. The course aims to acquaint the students with the study of ancient coins of India that forms an integral and significant part of the discipline.

Chairperson
Department of Ancient Indian History,
Archaeology
Panjab University,
Chandigarh

		2. It is our endeavour to make the students familiar with the decipherment of the legends and identification of the coins.
AIH 033	Central Asia and Tibet	1. The course aims to provide a comprehensive survey of culture in regions outside India, thus showing the ancient linkages between India, Central Asia and Tibet. 2. The focus would primarily be on introduction and spread of Buddhism and the development of art and culture of Central Asia and Tibet
AIH 034	Champa and Cambodia	1. The course aims to provide a comprehensive survey of the spread of Indian culture in South-East Asia, thus showing the ancient linkages in the field of polity, art, culture, and religion. 2. India's contribution to the culture of these countries is studied in detail.
AIH 035	Economic Life and Institutions in Ancient India	1. The paper is aimed to acquaint the students with various aspects of economic ideas and economic life in ancient India upto 1200 AD. 2. The emphasis will be on economic institutions and development of agriculture, trade, commerce and transportation in ancient India.
AIH 036	Political Ideas and Institutions in Ancient India	1. The course is aimed to acquaint students with the major administrative set-up during various periods of Indian history
AIH 037	Pali and Prakrit Literature	1. The main objective of this paper is to prepare the students for a deeper understanding of the history of Pali and Prakrit Literature. 2. The period of the composition of various works, their subject matter and historical significance are critically analyzed.
AIH 038	History of Sanskrit Literature	1. The main objective of this paper is to prepare the students for a deeper understanding of the history of Sanskrit literature. 2. The period of the composition of various works, their subject matter and historical significance would be taken up for discussion.
AIH 039	Afro-Asian Civilization	1. The above course aims to study the ancient societies of Mesopotamia, Babylonia and Assyria for an in-depth understanding of the ancient civilizations of the world.
AIH 040	Roman Civilization	1. This course aims to study the ancient society of Rome for an in-depth understanding of the ancient civilization of the world.

 Chairperson
 Department of Ancient Indian History,
 Culture & Archaeology
 Panjab University,
 Chandigarh

Name of Department: Ancient Indian History, Culture and Archaeology

Name of Programme: M.Phil. (Ancient Indian History, Culture and Archaeology)

Vision

The comprehensive and well structure course work introduces researches to the various methods of doing high quality, ethical research work.

Mission

The aim is to encourage maximum number of researcher to pursue Ph.D.

Program Outcomes (PO)

- PO 1 To familiarize the researchers with the theories and methods of historical inquiry.
- PO 2 To acquaint students with the recent trends in ancient Indian historiography.
- PO3 Introduce the students to research methodology and to equip them to carry out plagiarism free research

Program Specific Outcomes (PSO)

- PSO 1 The program has successfully led to the generation of high quality, plagiarism free research.
- PSO 2 M.Phil programme has been successful in giving a good training for higher research work.

Course Outcomes

Semester-I

Course Code	Course Title
Paper-I	Theory and Method of Historical Inquiry	1. To familiarize the students with theories and methods of historical enquiry.
Paper-II	Trends in Ancient Indian Historiography	1. The main objective of the paper is to familiarize students with the trends in ancient Indian historiography.
Paper-III	Research Techniques	1. The main objective of the paper is to introduce the students to the research methodology and to equip them to carry out plagiarism free research.

Chairperson
Department of Ancient Indian History,
Culture & Archaeology
Panjab University,
Chandigarh
Rajinder Sidhu

Name of Department: Ancient Indian History, Culture and Archaeology

Name of Programme: Ph.D (Ancient Indian History, Culture and Archaeology)

Vision

The course aims to provide the researchers the necessary knowledge and skills to undertake academically enriching research work. The course work adequately covers all recent trends in historical research.

Mission

The Ph.D course work aims keep our scholars abreast with the recent methodologies and researches so that their research work matches high international standards.

Program Outcomes (PO)

- PO 1 Primary objective is to acquaint the students with the different approaches to the study and writing of Ancient Indian History
- PO 2 The course aims to develop a critical judgment in researches to make them aware of the recent trends in historiography
- PO 3 This paper shall help students to grasp the nature and scope of history writing. They will be introduced two primary methods of research i.e. qualitative and quantitative. It will help them to understand various methods of collecting and analyzing historical data and prepare the final draft of their research synopsis/thesis/project. The course will apprise them of the research ethics.

Program Specific Outcomes (PSO)

- PSO 1 The course work prime outcome is that our Ph.D students strive to produce high quality, original research.
- PSO 2 Foreign nationals have also benefitted by doing research work in our department.
- PSO 3 The research work of our scholars meets high research standers, Nationally and Internationally.

Course Outcomes

Course-work

Course Code	Course Title
Paper I:	Historiography	1. The primary objective of this paper is to acquaint the students with the different approaches for the study and writing of Ancient Indian History.
Paper II:	Recent trends in Historical Research	1. This course aims to help develop a critical judgment in students and to make them aware of the recent trends in historiography.

Chairperson
Department of Ancient Indian History,
Culture & Archaeology
Panjab University,
Chandigarh

12/11/20
Dal Sidhu

Paper III:	Research Methodology	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. This paper shall help students to grasp the nature and scope of history writing.2. They will be introduced two primary methods of research i.e. qualitative and quantitative.3. It will help them to understand various methods of collecting and analyzing historical data and prepare the final draft of their research synopsis/thesis/project.4. The course will apprise them of the research ethics.
-------------------	---------------------------------	---

Chairperson
Department of Ancient Indian History,
Culture & Archaeology
Panjab University,
Chandigarh